Board Plays Musical Chairs With Meetings

They did it again.

The Antioch Village Board has changed its meeting date for the third time since village elections April 15. Immediately following the vote Trustee Richard J. Daniel threatened to make a motion at the next meeting to again change the meeting night.

Daniel and Mayor Raymond P. Toft were the only town board members opposed to the change which was introduced by Trustee Robert C. Wilton.

Meeting nights will be the first and third Tuesday of the month beginning with the first Tuesday in July, July 1. The board will meet Monday, June 16.

Wilton gave as his reasons for calling for a change in the meeting night, which had been Tuesday, then Wednesday, then Monday and now Tuesday again, the fact that the village engineer had not been consulted about the change and that when board members were elected April 15: "They knew board meetings were on Tuesdays."

Mayor Toft pointed out that Wilton had been responsible for the first change in meeting dates when he moved two meetings ago to change the date to Wednesday.

Toft added that the village engineer, Frank Angelotti, did not have to be consulted on the change of meeting dates.

Wilton said the engineer could not attend on Monday nights. Toft told Wilton that the engineer would attend the meetings or "We will find another engineer." Anglotti, seated in the audience, commented to the board: "That is the alternative." After the meeting he said that if the meeting night had not been changed he would have been forced to resign.

Toft said that in the eight years he had been the village board president he had never missed a Tuesday night meeting but that he had "created himself a problem" on Tuesday nights. He did not elaborate on what his problem was.

The village will ask a $65,000 bond, cash or letter of credit from the developer of the northern portion of Sequoit Terrace before work can begin.

The bond is to guarantee that the developer will construct sewers, curbs, streets and sidewalks in accordance with village codes.

The board moved to purchase a gas chlorinator for the village sewer plant polishing pond for $625. The price includes installation.

This summer 1,111 square feet of village tennis courts will be resurfaced at a cost of $1,690. Trustee Vern Barnstable was instructed by the board to learn if telephone service to the village hall can be improved. The village hall has only one line.

The board moved to make a

President Taps Deuster

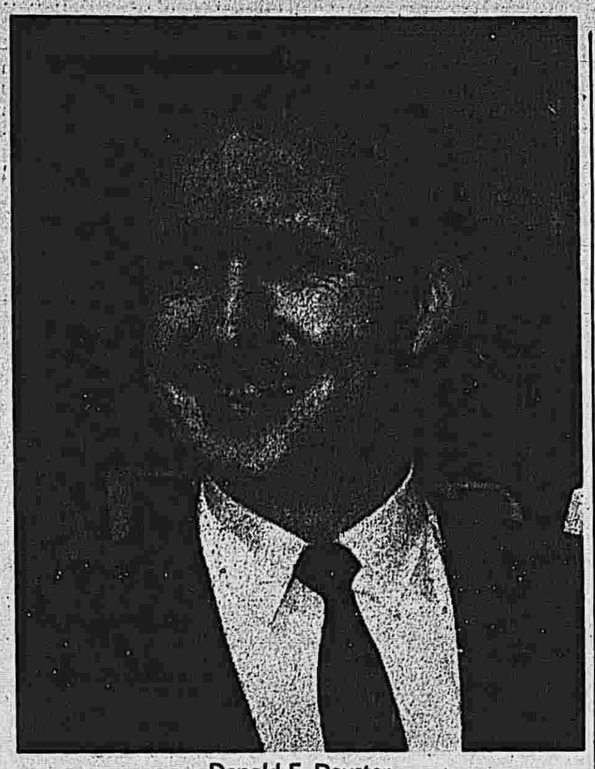

Donald E. Deuster, administrative assistant to Congressman Robert McClory during the past six and one-half years, is being appointed by President Nixon as Congressional Relations Assistant to Secretary John A. Volpe, in the United States Department of Transportation.

Deuster, who resided in Libertyville prior to his appointment as head of Congressman McClory's Washington staff, is considered an expert in the areas of public affairs and Congressional relations. At a recent party honoring Mr. Deuster, Congressman McClory declared:

"Don has been a loyal and able administrative assistant, whose talents have been recognized by all with whom he has had contact during these past six years. It is understandable that President Nixon and Secretary Volpe should recognize his particular qualifications and seek to utilize them in carrying out the policies and programs of the Administration. Our best wishes go with Don."

While serving as Congressman McClory's assistant, Mr. Deuster's Washington activities included the Capital Hill Prayer Breakfast group for whom he was president, the "Bull Elephants," a Republican organization which he served as an officer, and an instructor at the Library of Con-

Error In Survivors

In last week's edition of The Antioch News we inadvertently listed Pfc. Robert J. Hawks as being survived by his wife, Janet.

Robert J Hawks was not married and Janet is the wife of his brother, Dennis. We regret the error.

Industry Council Working

The Antioch Industrial Council is busily at work these days even though the work doesn't show on the surface as yet.

But in the offing is a brochure that will outline the advantages of industry settling in Antioch, and it is nearly at the completion stage.

The brochure will give the areas that are available in the Antioch area in a sort of loose-leaf form that can be removed or added to if the property is used up or new property is to be added.

The council has also filed with the State of Illinois Business and Economic Development Agency a report on the Antioch area.

This report puts those seeking industrial sites and business sites that Antioch would look with favor on new businesses or industries settling here.

It also details the number of homes available in the area, the size of the work force and many other details that industries are

New Phone Directories Available

New Illinois Bell Telephone directories are being delivered to homes and businesses in Antioch, Fox Lake, Lake Villa and Pistakee Highlands starting this month.

According to local manager Donald Amundsen, this year's front cover is a pictorial portrayal of the many faces of Illinois—its financial community, its farms, its transportation facilities, its historical monuments and its recreational areas.

Back again is the popular three-in-one directory format Illinois Bell customers have found convenient in recent years.

The first section of the directory opens with Call-Guide pages,

Brownsmead, Oregon in September of 1964 to establish St. Stephen's in Antioch. The first service was held Dec. 6, 1964 and the congregation was organized on May 2, 1965.

The congregation met in the Antioch High School cafeteria until the church was built in October of 1967.

A farewell tea was held on May 4 and the congregation including the Sunday School children, the Luther League and the churchwomen presented gifts to the Anderson family.

Emmons Tax Hike Vote Set

Residents of the Emmons Grade School District will go to the polls again this Saturday to increase their tax rate from $1.24 per $100 of assessed valuation to $1.45 per $100 assessed valuation.

The voters of the area had already approved the last tax rate hike of 21 cents last March 22 by a vote of 109 to 83.

Voters knew at that time that the rate would have to be increased again in order for the school to function on its own.

Polls will be open from 12 noon to 7 p.m. at Emmons School on Saturday, May 24.

Library Fund Receives Donation

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Spiering have made a sizable donation to the Antioch Library Fund it was announced today by board officials.

The donation, the amount of which was undisclosed, will be used for furnishings and equipment for the multiple-purpose room.

The room will be used for any library activity.

Yearbook Queen Is Diane Hunt

Diane Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Hunt, Hillside Ave., Antioch, has been presented with the first copy of the 1969 Sequoia, as this year's Yearbook Queen.

Diane has also been named as the DAR winner and has been chosen by the students and faculty as the Outstanding Senior Girl in the class of 1969. She received the American Legion medal at the Honors Assembly in the high school May 14.

Other honors recipients were: Jerry Martin, Outstanding Boy; Gary Lischewski, Boys' State; Charmaine Daniel, Girls' State; Karen Sheehan, Alice E. Smith Scholarship; Priscilla Strahan, Art Federation — Allerton Park; Patricia Holimon, Chorus-Eastern Illinois University.

County Study Group Favors Apartments

The Lake County Housing Study Committee has gone on record in favor of a proposed 200-unit apartment complex at Grandwood Park west of Gurnee. Several residents of the area appeared at a recent public hearing on the petition to rezone the property and voiced objections. However, the zoning board of appeals has not yet made a recommendation to the Board of Supervisors.

It is the feeling of the Housing Study group that with a current deficiency of some 14,000 dwelling units in the county it is imperative to encourage any new developments which meet established criteria. This was the first such action taken by the committee to actively back a proposed housing project.

A representative of the architectural firm working on the Grandwood Park Complex said there would be four, five-story buildings with fifty units per building. The structure would resemble the Imperial Manor apartments located off Grand Avenue on Waukegan's west side, and would be luxury type dwellings.

In answer to a question from Richard Kennedy, study committee chairman, regarding adequate sewer and water facilities, the de-

Antioch High Offering Driver Training Course

Through action of the State Legislature the people of Illinois have determined that after January 1, 1969, the age for first licensing of youthful operators of automobiles and motor driven cycles will be 18 years, except for those who have successfully completed a quality course in driver education approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The responsibility for providing quality courses in driver education for all eligible youthful residents in a public school district has been placed directly on the public high schools.

In meeting this responsibility Antioch High will again offer a summer program. A student is eligible if he or she is 16 by August 1, 1969 and is a resident of district No. 117. Both the classroom and the behind the wheel instruction will be offered.

The course will start on June 16, 1969 and continue for 5 weeks. Registration can be made by calling at the high school in person or telephoning for an application.

The application should be completed as soon as possible since eye testing and written tests will be given the last week in May. These tests must be completed so that the students' application for driver's permit from the Secretary of State's Office may be processed and the permits available for the new student at the beginning of class.

All permits for driver's license for youth under 18 are handled by the high school under the law. No driving can legally take place with a permit except with a driver education instructor until the course is completed.

Upon completion of the course successfully, the student may drive on a valid permit with the parent if additional driving time is needed before the driver's test is taken at the driver's licensing testing station.

Eye and written tests will be given to students of Antioch Community High School with beginning last names as follows:

A - H—3:35 p.m. Monday, May 26

J - Q — 3:35 p.m. Tuesday, May 27

R - Z — 3:35 p.m. Thursday, May 29.

All others taking the course that are not students at A.C.H.S.:

7:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 27.

All tests will be given in room 106 across from the cafeteria.

Susan Bucar Foundation Gifts Given

The first expenditure of the Susan Bucar Memorial Foundation will benefit the Antioch Township Library, two special education children 8 to 12 will be sent to a one-week summer camp and donations will be made to the Antioch Rescue Squad, St. Mary of Providence School and the Immaculate Conception program for exceptional children.

Who Will Teach at CLC?

The selection of faculty for the College of Lake County is now underway. According to Dr. R. Ernest Dear, Dean of Instruction, more than 2500 applications from across the country have been received by the College. From these applicants, approximately 50 full time instructors will be selected.

"The response is indicative of the interest qualified educators have shown in associating with a community college," Dr. Dear said. We have set our standards high, and we have found an abundance of qualified professional persons who meet these standards. We know that when classes begin September 11, our faculty will be the best available."

CLC is seeking intellectually stimulating, professionally experienced and mature instructors of the highest caliber. Faculty members will be expected to concentrate their professional efforts on effective instruction for freshman and sophomore college students.

The Dean further indicated, "The College regards teaching as a highly demanding, creative profession which requires an open mind, a willingness to experiment with instructional techniques, a capacity to exercise mature judgment, a genuine interest in and respect for all manifestations of students' intellectual curiosity, and an understanding of the philosophy, objectives and policies of the comprehensive community college."

CLC faculty members are being selected on the basis of training, experience, competence in teaching, professional attitude and ability to work with others. Dr. Dear stressed that appointments at the College are being filled without discrimination as to sex, race, age, color, religion or national origin.

Potential faculty members must have at least a Master's Degree in a subject area or in certain career programs a minimum of a Bachelor's Degree and at least three years of approved experience in a related technical field. Beginning Master's Degree salary for the academic year at CLC is $7800 and ranges up to $16,731, based on education and experience.

In addition to full-time positions, Dr. Dear explained there will be a number of openings for part-time instructors in all areas. There will also be openings for qualified persons in local business and industry to be instructors in the Careers Program.

"We are seeking a number of instructors from a wide range of fields who are not presently engaged in education, but whose experience and performance can be legitimately substituted for academic training. These persons will play an important role in our Career Programs at CLC, and we urge interested persons to contact us at their earliest convenience for an application," Dr. Dear said.

In the case of part-time instructors, Dr. Dear said these will be needed in both the University Parallel and the Career Programs. Part-time faculty members will be paid at a semester hour rate based on qualifications and experience and computed according to their placement on the faculty salary schedule.

A Good Judge

The residents of Lake County lost a good friend this past week with the death of Lake County Circuit Judge Philip W. Yager.

His spot on the circuit bench will be a hard one to fill.

Because Phil Yager was a man who not only believed in justice, but he was also compassionate.

His feeling for his fellow man often gave him to wonder whether or not he should continue on the bench because some of his verdicts, of necessity, had to be harsh.

But whether or not Phil Yager would have sought re-election will never be known, but we suspect that he would have because he felt that the job he was doing was a necessary one.

Phil Yager was more than just a judge, he was a personal friend, sharing his triumphs and his defeats alike in a sort of comradeship that is not found every day.

He was human, and in being so knew that those who appeared before him were only human, also.

He was a man that one could talk to—forgetting that he wore the black robe of justice—and caring that he would give an opinion that in all likelihood would be the right one.

He was a man's man, was Judge Philip W. Yager.

He will be sorely missed.

The slogan tacked on him in a campaign was "A Good Judge."

He surely was.

Yes Vote Needed

The voters of the Emmons Grade School district will go to the polls for the second time this spring to vote on a 21-cent hike in the educational tax rate for the district.

Last March 22 the voters made a wise choice and approved the request set forth by its school board so that its school could continue to operate.

We, again urge that this Saturday's vote will be no different.

The need for the increase has been well publicized and Emmons residents knew last March that they would again be approached in May.

But the passage of time has proved those who voted for the tax hike prophets because in the back of their minds was the hope that the state legislature would aid them in their plight by boosting the state aid to schools.

Such a proposal is now being sent through the legislature and some hike in the aid is bound to come out of the hopper.

At the present time we don't know how much, but every little bit will help keep Emmons open for a longer period of time.

The need is known.

We urge the voters to once again aid their children in getting the education they deserve.

A yes vote is needed.

FROM THE STATEHOUSE

By LT. GOV. PAUL SIMON

Now Is The Time . . .

During the weeks until July 1, the ma[illegible]s of state government for the next year will be [illegible] have strong views on any subject, particularly in the field of revenue, now is the time for expressing those views.

How is that best done?

Legislators differ on what they like, but most would agree with these suggestions:

1. Letters

The most effective way to contact your legislators is with a simple, direct statement of your beliefs. It should not be a form letter; he wants to know what you think, not what the organization to which you belong thinks. It should be brief; he does not have time to read lengthy letters. Put your return address on the letter, not just the envelope.

Many citizens believe their letters are unimportant. While letters cannot be guaranteed to be effective, most legislators regard them as very important.

2. Telegrams

Save your money, unless the matter is to be voted on immediately. Legislators get flooded with telegrams, and they have no more impact than a thoughtful letter. If time is a factor, then a telegram may be wise.

3. Phone Calls

Your legislator does not appreciate getting too many phone calls. This is why some have unlisted telephones. Time is an extremely valuable commodity for a member of the House or Senate. If you get 25 phone calls when you are home visiting your family and trying to relax, it soon becomes irritating.

4. Petitions

They are not without value, but their value is limited. Most people sign a petition without much understanding of what the issues are. Your legislator knows that.

5. Visits to Springfield

If this is done courteously and not in massive numbers, it can be helpful. But legislators don't like to feel they are being pressured. Pressure frequently backfires on the group applying it.

Above all, be courteous. Suggest your views but be willing to respect the views of someone who differs with you. Be willing to listen to his side of the story.

Whatever your decision on the method you will use to contact your legislator, now is the time to express your opinion. Six weeks from now will be too late.

Letters to the Editor

One of the objectives of our teaching at Carmel is to develop discerning students—students who are able to read, to view and to hear facts purported to be true and to recognize the areas of truth as separate from the areas that stem from ignorance, imagination or malice. It is sometimes a difficult task but the recent publicity Carmel High School for Girls received in the Waukegan News-Sun has made the job of such discrimination less difficult.

Besides this broadening experience of better understanding of the ways of communication media, the articles to which I refer have served to enhance an already great and lively spirit of community which we enjoy. This gross misrepresentation has served as a binding force for our total community.

Our Religious Education program is distinguished in two ways: the quality of its teaching and freedom to question. The girls do feel free to be open and questioning—and the reason that we encourage this atmosphere of openness is because of the intelligent and well educated faculty we have. Intelligent young people ARE questioning these days—and that is why so many Catholic families, as well as other denominations, are sending their girls to Carmel. They are assured of teachers well trained in theology to be here to discuss these very important matters with their daughters day after day. The success of our program was evidenced by the immediate recognition of Carmel girls and their parents of the misunderstanding and misrepresentation by the gentleman who claimed to be reporting what he saw and heard at Carmel.

It was evident to us as teachers and students that Mr. Martin has not done his homework in current trends in education.

It is even more evident that his reporting of Mass was far removed from the beauty of the liturgy which we experienced those days.

I feel confident that the parents of our young ladies know the true facts and I sincerely hope that this statement will allay the fears of any other Christian families in Lake County.

To Whom It May Concern:

Although it has been nearly a year since I last sent my thanks to all the good people of Antioch, I would once again like to say "thank you" for the great job you are doing.

I have been overseas for twenty months, and I can not begin to think how many packages I have received. When I say I am deeply impressed I still have the feeling I'm not using the proper words to show my gratitude. Your time and best wishes are greatly appreciated.

Respectfully,
Rick Luszcak

Realtors Week Set May 18-24

"Home Ownership—Foundation of the Nation" has been selected as the theme of Realtor Week May 18-24, 1969 Morton Engle, president of the Waukegan-Lake County Board of Realtors, announced today.

The members of the Waukegan-Lake County Board are joining with more than 87,000 Realtors throughout the nation in community-wide observances and activities directing attention to the professional services they render and their efforts to help solve the major problems of our cities and towns.

He pointed out that this slogan merits special attention as a stabilizing force in an era marked by problems ranging from riots and a sagging respect for law and order to soaring housing demand and interest rates.

Home ownership is enjoyed by more than two-thirds of the families across the nation, Engle said, a dream Realtors have aided materially in attaining. This record of home ownership is matched by few other countries in the world, but it can become an even greater boon as it is extended to increasing numbers of low-income families through special programs and efforts. This goal is just one of those incorporated in the Make America Better program of Realtors.

"The term REALTOR is an indicator—of—particular qualifications because only a member of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and one of the more than 1550 local boards can identify himself by that term," Engle explained. "To be eligible for membership, a candidate must demonstrate a superior knowledge of business, possess a record of business integrity, and finally, subscribe to a strict code of ethics."

The code of ethics is important, he added. One of the first adopted in the history of American business, it is based on the Golden Rule. Under its 30 articles, the Realtor pledges to keep the interests of both the buyer and seller uppermost in his mind during the entire transaction.

Engle said "some surveys show that many people erroneously believe that the term Realtor is interchangeable with 'real estate man'. However, it is a service mark registered in the U.S. Patent Office, and only active membership of NAREB and its member boards may use it. That is why it is always capitalized."

He praised Realtors' leadership over the years in championing the institution of private property and working to make home purchase possible for whole new classes of buyers.

"Realtors," Engle concluded, "feel they have contributed greatly to the nation's prosperity. NAREB and and its leaders have for years urged and promoted home ownership both by the business in which they are engaged and by support of legislation and custom that have made purchase possible for millions of families who could not previously afford it."

New Computers Have "Whisker" Memory

Thousands of tiny metal "whiskers" are the heart of a unique new computer memory.

The "rod" memory is a significant development in thin-film technology which, is being widely used for the most advanced types of computers. Thin films are coatings of magnetic metallic substances only millionths of an inch thick. They have great potential in increasing the speed of computer memories and data storage systems.

The tiny whiskers used in NCR's new Century Series computers are actually metal rods. Each rod is one tenth of an inch long and six-thousandths of an inch in diameter. They operate at speeds of billionths of a second (nanoseconds). The rods are cut from a continuous wire which is plated with a magnetic thin film by an automated process.

One of the great advantages of the rods is their ease of fabrication. They eliminate the need for tediously threading wires through the tiny cores normally used in computer memories. By an ingenious method, NCR can insert the rods in thousands of pre-wound solenoids (more than 4000 per memory plane) in minutes. The rods literally "dance" into position when placed in a pulsing magnetic field.

The simplicity of the rod fabrication process makes it possible to build a powerful, low-cost memory into a relatively inexpensive computer system. The same standard memory can be enlarged from a basic 16,000 characters to more than half a million characters.

A first-time computer user can easily expand a basic Century computer system as his needs grow. The expansion can take place without changing the computer's sets of operating instructions, or "software." The computations are simply performed faster on the more powerful equipment.

The new Century computers are applicable to a wide range of business, industrial and governmental data processing tasks.

Solenoid-winding machine developed by NCR automatically interleaves two fine wires into 4608 tiny coils to form basic structure of memory plane. Wire is so fine, more than six miles of it is needed to make a pound. Solenoids serve as activating and sensing elements for computer memory which functions at speed of 800 nanoseconds (billionths of a second).

In comparison to penny, minute metal rods, only one tenth of an inch long and six-thousandths of an inch in diameter.

PM & L Seeks Help

The PM&L Board under the direction of Josef Hunley has been very busy these past few months making plans for its ninth season of live theatre in the Antioch community.

During the last eight years this amateur theatre group has worked diligently and long to please its audiences with diversified and high quality dramatic and musical productions, comedy and children's plays.

Now the group is calling for help from the Antioch community.

A special meeting has been called for Sunday evening, May 25 at 8:00 p.m. at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch.

Anyone in the area who is interested in supporting PM&L by talent, backstage work, promotion, or even most important audience participation is urged to attend.

An amateur theatre organization cannot stay alive unless there are more than a handful of people interested in its survival. At this meeting it is hoped that a new spirit of "Keep PM&L Alive" will be born.

The ninth season productions will be announced, new ideas will be introduced, and plans for an all-out season ticket sale will be reviewed.

Theatre goers, actors, actresses, make-up dabblers, costume sewers, set builders, paint splashers—you are all invited!

Watch for publicity on the upcoming PM&L production of the hilarious play "Mary, Mary" by Jean Kerr. It will be presented on June 20, 21, 27 and 28 at the PM&L Theatre.

One of the great successes of recent years, this sparkling comedy, which starred Barbara Bel Geddes, Barry Nelson and Michael Rennie in its long-run Broadway production, offers a warm and witty examination of a marriage headed for the rocks.

Director Gary Richter is now casting, read through rehearsals are beginning, the set will soon be taking form. In the next six weeks miracles will be born.

Township Problems Reviewed

At the Township Officials of Illinois annual southern spring conference, held in Mt. Vernon on May 2, the association undertook a comprehensive review of the problems and needs of township government, and previewed its outlook for the balance of 1969. More than 300 township officials from the southern part of Illinois attended the meeting.

The projection for 1969 was prompted by a summary of legislation affecting township government now submitted to the 1969 session of the Illinois state legislature. In his report on this subject, Troy A. Kost, Astoria, executive secretary of the Township Officials of Illinois, stated that more than 100 bills relating to township government are now in the state legislative hopper. Key ones relate to recodification of township statutes, consolidation of smaller townships, making certain townships co-extensive with cities, legislation to help townships increase police protection in unincorporated areas, and a variety of bills affecting the make-up of county boards by elected township supervisors as is now the case.

The latter subject relates to the one-man one-vote concept as applied to the election of county boards. Mr. Kost pointed out that this is basically a county situation but relates to townships because of the fact that county supervisors are also township supervisors in Downstate Illinois. Within any given township, however, it was noted that the one-man, one-vote principle is in effect, since all township officials are elected at large in their own townships.

Kost predicted that, among five bills submitted for reapportionment of county boards, that one is still to come from a legislative sub-committee appointed to work on this project.

Among the bills now in the subcommittee is one called the "Lake County Bill," which was reported on by Lake County attorney and clerk of Waukegan Township, Warren C. Behr. This proposed legislation would retain supervisors and assistant supervisors as county board members, who would then be given weighted votes in order to equalize population differences between townships within a given county.

Attorney Behr observed that although there have been differences of legal opinion on the constitutionality of weighted voting, that the State of Hawaii practices it in its legislature, and that at least two federal court rulings have approved it as prescribing to the one-man, one-vote concept.

He stated that he had not found any federal or State of Illinois statutes that prohibit weighted voting as a way to proportion representation in governmental bodies. The Township Officials association, however, took no official stand on any pending legislation relating to reapportioning.

Another speaker on the Township Officials spring conference program was Maurice Scott, Springfield, executive vice president, Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois. Scott advised the township officials that "your importance and stature are determined by how well you perform your duties," and reviewed the principal functions of the township supervisor, clerk, assessor and highway commissioner.

Scott also discussed taxation problems among local governing bodies and in the state government. He noted that "the State of Illinois currently finds it necessary to collect more revenue in order to meet obligations already on the books," and cautioned that the way to slow down increasing tax rates is to "stop unnecessary, costly programs from getting on the books."

The Township Officials meeting was called to order by Joe W. Burgett, Vermont, president of the association. An address of welcome was delivered by the Mayor of Mt. Vernon, with a response by John Parrish, township assessor, Carbondale.

The afternoon session consisted of question and answers relating to specific township officials' duties and procedures. The panel members for this session were Charles Henrichs, Commissioner of Thornton Township, Thornton; Melvin Smith, Engineer of Local Roads and City Streets, Springfield; Gordon Longtha, Director of Local Government, Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, Springfield; Jack K. Trotter, County Superintendent of Highways, Mt. Vernon; William Jacobs, State Association Director and Assessor of Thornton Township, South Holland, and Troy a Kost, Executive Secretary, Astoria.

Your Congressman Reports.....

By Cong. Robert McClory

While history records the "Gay Nineties" and the "Roaring Twenties" as periods of moral laxity, they appear not to have compared to the present in terms of moral depravity. The prevalence of obscenities and immoral conduct has induced some to describe the present era as the "Age of Vulgarity."

The mails, the theatre, literature, and of course many public demonstrations provide the means for the peddling of filth, pornography and indecencies which shock and repel most citizens.

The mails are a frequent and subtle conduit for the marketing of smutty and salacious literature. The peddlers of this material are most astute at locating the more receptive and impressionable young people whose tender age and curiosity make them particularly susceptible to such materials. Similarly, newsstand publications, books and plays address their appeal to the baser and less wholesome interests of citizens of all ages in a manner which might have provoked arrests and drawn jail sentences in earlier periods of our history.

Although the Federal Government may be quite restricted insofar as censorship of literary and dramatic work is concerned, the President has recommended decisive action concerning misuse of the United States mails. The Constitution grants to the Congress direct authority over interstate commerce and the U.S. mails.

President Nixon has proposed the following three legislative remedies: 1) To prohibit the use of mails to deliver to anyone under 18 years of age material dealing with a sexual subject in a manner unsuitable to young people; 2) to prohibit advertising by mail for the commercial exploitation of material appealing to a prurient interest in sex and 3) to permit citizens to protect their homes from any intrusion of sex-oriented advertising by preventing the potential sender from using the mails to deliver such offensive material. Other measures may come later—designed to improve the unclean atmosphere that has developed.

However, it seems more probable that public revulsion will contribute more than Federal legislation. Much of today's immorality is neither entertaining nor clever. Rather, it is crude and vulgar. Is it not possible that the active participants in this reign of immorality are themselves aware of the low estate to which they have sunk?

It is doubtful that there will be a return to the Victorian facade in which immorality flourished in clandestine ways. On the other hand, an overwhelming popular demand for decency and wholesomeness would seem stronger than the crude and offensive practices which are demoralizing our entire society. The main interest of the principal smut peddlers who use the mails is financial. If the Congress can help dry up their financial gains, perhaps society itself then will be able to restore a measure of morality and decency to a world that is weary of four-letter words and little minds that seem never to rise above the gutter.

The entire nation would welcome an end to this "Age of Vulgarity."

Limits On Young Job Hunters Set

Teen-age summer job hunters will find their pursuit limited by federal and state child labor laws.

These laws, explains the Illinois State Bar Association, affect the kinds of jobs young people may hold and the amount of time they may spend at work. Federal laws apply to all teens under 18 years of age, while state law is applicable only until the age of 16.

The Federal Fair Labor Standards Act states that persons under 18 may not be employed in any of 17 non-agricultural occupations declared hazardous by the Secretary of Labor. For example, a youngster under 18 cannot operate an elevator, even if it's automatic, nor car he drive a motor vehicle as part of his job or be a member of a wrecking crew. Other hazardous occupations include mining, excavating and roofing.

The youngster under 16 will find even more off-limits jobs. Illinois child labor laws provide that he cannot work for a filling station or garage, bowling alley, exhibition park, amusement park, or any place where alcoholic beverages are sold for consumption on the premises. Further, a girl under 16 cannot hold a job that requires her to stand continuously.

The work week for the person under 16 is limited to eight hours a day for six days, or 48 hours a week. He cannot work between the hours of 7 p.m. and 7 a.m.

What are some of the jobs youngsters under 16 can hold? They can sell or distribute magazines and newspapers anytime when school is not in session or do housework. And anyone more than 12 years of age can be a caddy at a golf course.

In order to hold most other jobs an employment certificate issued by the city or county superintendent of schools, or a duly authorized agent, must be obtained.

A youngster must apply in person for an employment certificate. He should be accompanied by a parent or guardian and should bring the following papers:

(1) A statement from his prospective employer describing the nature of the work he will be doing and specifying the EXACT hours and days of employment.

(2) Evidence of his age, preferably a birth certificate.

(3) A statement from his school principal. This is not necessary if he is to be employed only during school vacations.

(4) A statement of physical fitness signed by a public health or public school physician, who has examined him. If a public health or public school physician is unavailable, a statement from a private physician may be accepted if his examination was made according to Department of Labor standards.

We did win a Blue Ribbon.

County Study Group..

veloper said Grandwood Park has its own plant large enough to handle the projected increased load. He is working with state officials on maintaining specifications on effluent.

Housing Development subcommittee chairman Allan Pickus reported that his group has surveyed the eastern two-thirds of the county, chose twenty possible locations for new developments and selected four sites for immediate attention. Pickus said the four sites could accommodate about 7,000 housing units and might be ready within a year if the subcommittee can encourage developers to act.

"It is the feeling of our subcommittee," Pickus said, "to exclude any federal involvement on these proposed pilots project in the interest of time. We know it requires about six months of paper work and waiting just to get a federally-subsidized project under way. We want these developments to be privately financed."

One member of the study committee questioned whether social as well as economic aspects of planned developments are being considered. Another member of the subcommittee, Lester Simon, answered saying the size of one proposed site would allow for planning a project large enough to include in its scope every economic range, and aim at solution of any and all possible social problems as well. He said it could be a demonstration project which would capture the imagination of the entire county.

In other action, the members voted to approve a motion for request of limited funds from the county to secure the assistance of a professional consulting service should it be required to complete the study. Chairman Kennedy suggested getting as much information as is available from local industry. He said it would take far too long to wait for the results of the official 1970 census to determine Lake County population trends, family size, and wants regarding housing requirements.

One other problem mentioned at Friday's session was lack of manpower in the building trades. It was pointed out there is a tremendous need now for craftsmen. A committee member indicated that perhaps too much emphasis is being placed on a college education for everyone in order to succeed in life when in reality the tradesmen are making salaries comparable to middle management personnel in industry.

To the thousands of homeowners who will be installing electric central home air conditioning this year...

here's how to enjoy spring all year'round.

Electric central air conditioning combined with an efficient electric furnace offers year-round "total comfort." Total comfort assures you the worry-free convenience of a constant indoor temperature any time of day or year, regardless of the weather outside.

Spring-like total comfort doesn't have a big price tag, either. It's easy and inexpensive to convert to an electric furnace at the same time you install electric central home air conditioning. And, operating costs are probably a great deal lower than you've been led to believe. In fact, with electricity you can heat an average six-room house for about $200 a year.

Consider the advantages of year-round total comfort the electric way. Get all the facts by filling out and sending in the coupon below. Or call our nearest office and ask for Tom Rogers. He'll answer any questions you have about converting to electric heat, including a free estimate on installation and operating costs.

SUGGESTION

If your son or daughter is going to take driver's education next semester, may I suggest that you start clipping out pictures of automobile accidents from your daily and weekly papers. They usually need about 25 pictures, and they are some times hard to come by when you need them at the last minute. If you start now, your child may have some pictures in his book that other youngsters won't have.

GOOD CITIZENS BUILD BETTER COMMUNITIES

Citizenship involves more than casting a ballot, attending a civic club meeting, and obeying the law.

Citizenship means wholehearted, day-to-day support of both government and the civic and philanthropic agencies which work for community improvement.

(name of agency or project) benefits your community and —directly or indirectly—benefits you and yours. And your help is appreciated, needed and deserved.

Help, won't you?

Junk Cosling County $20,000 This Year

Picking up garbage and debris along county maintained roads will cost, approximately $20,000 this year, according to Lake County Highway Superintendent M. E. Amstutz.

Before the department mowers could be sent out this spring crews had to collect discarded junk. Otherwise, equipment operators faced the possibility of personal injury from flying glass or metal and certain damage to the mower blades.

Amstutz says the fantastic cost of the pickup must be blamed on careless and thoughtless individuals who indiscriminately toss bottles, cans and other waste materials out of car windows onto the shoulder of our highways.

It is an expensive way to prove that litterbugs really exist.

Americans Jogging For Lives

More and more Americans are throwing their hearts into jogging these balmy spring days.

Jog for your life, doctors say, and nearly 5 million gasping Americans—mostly middle-aged males—are doing just that as they pursue trim waistlines and longer lives in parks, offices, streets and even hotel corridors.

Jogging is running at a slow pace. As a physical fitness exercise, it is the total act of alternating slow running with walking. Medical authorities hold that exercises such as jogging, which help you take in more oxygen and cause your heart to pump more blood, are best for warding off heart attacks.

According to one heart specialist, "lack of exercise is one of the risk factors in heart ailments. Jogging is a mild form of exercise. If the jogger's heart is sound, regular jogging—within sensible limits—is likely to lengthen his life span."

Air Force Dr. Kenneth H. Cooper in his best-selling book "Aerobics" says running is the best exercise for increasing oxygen consumption and improving the cardiovascular and pulmonary systems. Noted heart specialist Dr. Paul Dudley White endorses all running sports because they force exertion and ease tension, and Dr. Warren R. Guild, of Boston, calls jogging "living insurance."

The President's Council on Physical Fitness strongly approves of jogging and the American Heart Association says "We're all for it, so long as the jogger is examined by a physician and follows his advice on frequency and amount of exercise."

Jogging has other advantages as well. It's fun for one thing. Also, it helps you lose weight and contributes to a general feeling of well-being. Another plus is that almost anyone can jog anywhere. No special equipment or facilities are needed and it requires relatively time. It does have pitfalls, however, especially for the beginner. So before you buy sweatsuit and sneakers, you might consider these few helpful hints from the makers of Bayer Aspirin.

As a first step, the American Medical Association recommends that you undergo a thorough physical examination. Once your doctor gives you the go-ahead, you should start by developing and practicing the proper technique. A basic rule asks that you undergo a thorough physical examination. Once your doctor gives you the go-ahead, you should start by developing and practicing the proper technique. A basic rule asks that you stand straight when jogging. Keep your back as straight as naturally comfortable. Keep your head comfortable. Keep your head up, neither forward nor back of the body line. Elbows are bent slightly away from the body. Legs should move freely from the hips. The knees lift while the ankles remain relaxed. Land on the heel of the foot, rock forward and take off from the ball of the foot.

Wear comfortable clothing. Almost any casual outfit will do. Avoid rubberized or plastic clothes, however, since they cause sweating and high body heat. Shoes are important. They should be sturdy with rubber, crepe, ripple or neolite soles. Shoes especially made for track and long distance running are fine. Sneakers and tennis shoes should be of the heavy variety.

Start gradually. Jog no more than a quarter of a mile the first time out. Run until you're tired, walk, run a little more, and so forth until you've covered the distance. After your first run your calf muscles may be stiff for several days—a fairly common sypmtom even for competitive runners. When that happens a couple of aspirin tablets and a warm bath will soothe those aching muscles until you really hit your stride. Increase your distance gradually until you achieve a sensible regimen. For some, this may mean as much as two or three miles a day, three times a week.

Most of all, keep it up. A physical fitness program isn't much good unless you stay with it. And jogging is no exception.

So put your heart into it. You'll live longer.

Milk Program For Kids Passes House

Legislation to make the Special Milk Program for school children a permanent program passed its first major test in Congress May 6, when the House passed the Poage bill by a lopsided vote of 384 to 2.

This bill, by Cong. W. R. Poage of Texas, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, authorizes $125 million a year to pay the difference between the cost of the milk and what the children pay for it.

The bill was drafted by the National Milk Producers Federation which includes the 10,800 members of Pure Milk Association among its several hundred thousand dairy farmer members.

Earlier this year Pure Milk Association testified in favor of the Poage bill at a hearing before the House Agriculture Committee. PMA pointed out that through this program millions of children of school age have developed the healthful habit of drinking milk instead of trying to satisfy their appetites with products of questionable nutritional value.

The Senate is expected to act soon and favorably on this legislation. The Senate could act either on the Poage bill or a similar cosponsored by Senators Proxmire of Wisconsin and Senator McGovern of South Dakota in the Senate. The Senate bill was also drafted by the National Milk Producers Federation.

The Special Milk Program makes milk available at reduced rates to children in all non-profit schools of high school grade and under, all non-profit summer camps, and child-care institutions devoted to the care and training of children.

Clemens Winner In Feature Race

The U.A.R.A Midgets invaded the Waukegan Speedway Friday night and proceeded to set new records and Ron Clemens of Lockport came home the 40 lap feature winner. Clemens took the lead in the sixth lap after the leader spun and eliminated two of the other top running cars.

Bill Krueger of Lombard took the early feature lead with Clemens, Phil Stebbins of New Lennox and Jim Gates of Plano in hot pursuit. As the cars jockeyed for positions in the sixth lap, Krueger spun his new midget coming out of the second turn. Clemens squeezed by but Stebbins wasn't so lucky, running over Krueger's wheels, flying into the wall and was knocked out of the race. Ernie Zartler of Chicago also spun in that accident which saw the yellow flag for several laps.

When the green was displayed again Clemens was in the lead but several laps later the yellow came out again when George Todd of Milwaukee spun in the third turn. The next time the green came out for good and Clemens moved ahead with Dennis Cullick right behind and Jim Gates third.

Lap after lap Cullick shadowed Clemens waiting for a wrong move on the part of the leader but when Zeke Zimmerman's checkered flag came out Clemens was first across the line. Cullick placed second with Gates third. Rounding out the top six were Tom Stainer of Orland Park, John Lode of Elmwood Park and Tom Hilstrom of Downers Grove.

Clemens has been driving midgets and sports cars for six years, but the Waukegan feature win was his first. Clemens' Falcon powered midget is owned by Al and Ken Zaletal of Joliet.

John Deering of Elgin set hte new one lap qualifying record with a blistering :14.21 clocking. Johnny Troy of Greenfield was second in time and Cullick was third. John Lode won the trophy dash in a close finish over Paul Radamaker of Elmwood. Clemens als owon the opening heat and Krueger won the second heat. In the third heat three cars tasted the lead in the last lap, but Jim Hill of Des Plaines held on to win over Lode and Steiner.

The wild and wooly hobby stock races found Jim Couch winning the feature race.

Sequoits Title Hope Given Blow

Antioch's Sequoits' hopes for a title in baseball was given a severe jolt last Friday when they were upset by Grant 6 to 3 on the home field.

Righthander Bob Heitman went the distance for Grant and struck out eight while scattering six hits. Ralph Zanck took the loss for the Sequoits.

Grant scored a run in the first, three in the second and two in the 6th inning. Antioch did all of its scoring in the 6th inning.

Earlier in the week the Sequoits had knocked off Lake Zurich by a 4 to 3 score, beat Round Lake by a 7 to 6 margin and had beaten Grant in the Grayslake District meet by a score of 7 to 4, to win the district championship.

The win over Lake Zurich came when a balk called against the opposing pitcher Tom Sink who struck out 14 and gave up only five hits, but his team committed 7 errors.

Boating Tips...

REFUELING

Safety common-sense dictates that you remove your remote fuel tank from the boat whenever you refill it. This insures that no gas will be spilled into the boat, say the Mercury boating authorities. It also facilitates proper mixing of the oil and gas. When filling your remote gas tank, pour in a small amount of gas and an equal amount of oil. Mix thoroughly by shaking or stirring vigorously; then add balance of oil (follow manufacturer's recommendation) and gasoline and mix again.

Veterans Urged To Complete Forms

The Veterans Administration today urged the more than 360,000 veterans and servicemen now enrolled in the nation's colleges and universities under the Post-Korean G. I. Bill to complete and return VA certification of attendance cards as soon as possible.

Now sent to college-level G.I. Bill trainees only once during each enrollment period, the certification was formerly required monthly in order for the veteran or serviceman to be paid his monthly VA educational assistance allowance.

The veteran or serviceman is asked to indicate if there has been a change in his enrollment as shown on the card, or if he terminated enrollment.

To help the VA anticipate his future educational assistance needs, he is also asked to check whether he will enroll in the same program and school for the next period.

On the back of the card is a reminder that if the veteran or serviceman fails to complete and return the card to the VA office indicated on the card he will receive no further payment from the VA.

Farm Survey Will Begin In Late May

Many Illinois farmers will be asked to participate in special crop and livestock surveys to be conducted by the Illinois Cooperative Crop Reporting Service in late May and early June. Some of the farmers will be personally interviewed, while others will be contacted by mail or telephone.

These surveys are part of a nationwide effort to provide information needed to estimate planted acreage, livestock numbers, and farm employment.

State Agricultural Statistician Robert H. Moats said that the locally hired enumerators who will interview farmers are given several days training. They use aerial photographs and county road maps to find the scientifically selected farm units for the survey, and must do a thorough and accurate job.

Accuracy of estimates based on these surveys is very important. For this reason, Moats urges all farm operators selected in these surveys to supply the information requested. Estimates based on these surveys will be published in June and early July.

Schedule Old Town Art Fair In June

The 20th Annual Old Town Art Fair will be held on June 14 and 15, it was announced today by Mrs. Thomas Eley, chairman. The fair, oldest juried outdoor art fair in the United States, will be held from noon to nightfall in the 1800 blocks of North Lincoln Park West and Orleans Streets. In making the announcement, Mrs. Eley said that as in past years the proceeds from the art fair will be distributed to local community organizations. Last year a total of over $25,000 was distributed.

The 20th Anniversary of the event will be the theme of this year's art fair and will be marked by an exhibit of paintings, photographs and memorabilia at the Old Town Art Center which is located at 1818 N. Wells Street.

The Art Fair will serve as the showcase for more than 150 of the Midwest's leading painters, sculptors and craftsmen, all of whom were screened by a panel of judges before being admitted as participants.

Red Cross Serves Wounded in Vietnam

The sergeant, wounded in Vietnam and evacuated to a Stateside military hospital, looked up from the mobile telephone cart over which he had been trying to call his wife in a distant American city.

"She doesn't answer," he said anxiously to the Red Cross volunteer who was helping him.

A few minutes later the operator connected him with a next-door neighbor. His wife had been rushed to the hospital and operated on that day for a bleeding ulcer.

Although she was not critically ill, her physician recommended her husband's presence, if possible. The Red Cross field director arranged with the military medical officer for the serviceman to be re-routed for a day's visit with his wife, before entering another military hospital nearer his hometown for prosthetic treatment for an amputated foot.

This story is typical of the thousands of wounded servicemen given prompt and sympathetic assistance by Red Cross field directors in military hospitals in this country, in strife-torn areas of Vietnam and Korea, and in other countries where U.S. armed forces are stationed.

In military hospitals, patients get the same Red Cross welfare services of emergency communications, financial assistance, and counseling in personal and family problems that able-bodied men receive from field directors on military stations around the world. In hospitals, a medically approved recreation program is provided also by the Red Cross.

The sergeant's was just one of the 178,358 cases taken care of by Red Cross hospital workers in 1966-67. Many of these involved wounded veterans of the fighting in Vietnam—both while they were receiving emergency treatment in hospitals in the Far East and during and after their evacuation to continental United States for further treatment.

In this country, Europe, North Africa, and some countries of the Far East, Red Cross staffs in military medical facilities are augmented by thousands of volunteers. These unpaid workers perform many personal services for the patients such as shopping for them, writing letters for those unable to use their hands, and providing comfort articles and reading matter.

Volunteers also assist hospital staffs in clerical work, in dispensaries, and by caring for dependent children brought in for checkups or treatment.

Services to the Armed Forces and Veterans, largest of American Red Cross programs, cost the organization $44,663,045 in the 1966-67 fiscal year. This expenditure is expected to increase more than $4 million to $48,836,300 in 1968-69.

To serve the American people in 1968-69, the organization must raise $121,624,000, its largest fund goal since World War II. During March, ARC chapters which have not yet reached their goals will be campaigning for funds.

With the help of a Red Cross hospital worker, a serviceman wounded in Vietnam records a message telling the folks at home that he's getting along okay.

Unable to write home himself, a serviceman wounded in Vietnam dictates a letter to a Red Cross hospital worker.

Wilmot Will Open Saturday

The Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot opens this Saturday night, May 24 for the second consecutive season of modified and sspectator stock car racing sanctioned and promoted by the Interstate Racing Association. Actually, this will be the 17th year for the mighty modifieds at Wilmot.

Roger Otto of Burlington will defend his 1968 Championship in his Pontiac powered fuel injected speedster. Bill Bohn of Kenosha who finished third in standing last year will also return to action for the first time this year. Many new cars will be on hand. Ron Bergsma of Richmond and Al Schill of Franksville each have new cars that have carried them to victory at other tracks earlier this season.

Jr. Dodd of Waukegan, Denny McKay of Elgin, and Ken Hanson of Trevor are just a few who are sure to be faster than ever before.

The opening night will kick off a three day race meet entitled Speed Week at the Wilmot oval. Following the opening night on Saturday, the action continues on Thursday, May 29 with the modifieds and spectator stocks plus ladies in powder puff races. Then on May 31 a May Championship race will be held with awards going to the leading drivers.

100-Lap Race Featured At Waukegan

Continuing rains and cold weather forced the cancellation of the Sunday night late model super stock car races at the Waukegan Speedway. This marked the fourth rainout in 13 attempts at the Speedway this season. Only the midget races run Friday night went into the record books with Ron Clemens of Lockport winning the 40 lap event.

The Waukegan Speedway will present the first 100 late model championship race on its quarter mile oval in its 20-plus year history next Saturday night, May 24. With three rainouts in the last four scheduled nights of late model racing, there will certainly be a lagre field of top drivers anxious for the big money in Saturday's races.

The official championship point standings at the Speedway through May 18 finds Ray Young of Chicago topping the late model drivers and Tom Reuss of Round Lake leading the hobby stock pilots.

Silver spoons: Rx for coho fever

By Tom Andrews

About a year ago, writing about coho and the lures most likely to attract this handsome addition to Lake Michigan, I pointed out that silver lures were winning the lion's share of the action up and down the Lake. My experiences late in 1968 and off the Indiana shore in the past few weeks haven't changed this observation. In fact, I'd say that the man without a dozen or so silver spoons in his tacklebox is almost certain to find his pursuit of coho fruitless.

I feel so strongly about this that, if I were a formal sort of guy, I'd state it like this:

Andrews' Rule No. 1: Use spoon-type lures.

Andrews' Rule No. 2: Use silver spoons.

And there are a few more important observations that should also be put down to make Summer, '69, a really successful one for you.

Right off, appreciate the coho's enormous appetite. Even the smaller two or three pound fish much prefer a six-inch alewife to a shiner minnow that's scarcely an inch long.

Thus, Andrews' Rule No. 3: Use a silver spoon big enough to be seen by, and appeal to, coho of all sizes.

Next, consider your lure as a "salesman" of sorts: the less water it travels through, the fewer "sales" it'll make. You've got to cast as far as possible . . . so:

Andrews' Rule No. 4: Use rod and line strong enough to take a 10-lb. coho, but limber enough to cast a heavy spoon a very considerable distance.

Lastly, don't be taken in by the common misconception that any silver lure—or even any silver spoon—will lure coho. He may be a real hungry fish, but he'll strike first and hardest at the spoons that offer the most action.

In my experience (and I've tried them all), the Silver Minnow and the Sprite by Johnson are top-notch in color (high-visibility chrome and silver), weight, size and casting ability. And their swimming action can't be beat.

Andrews' Rule No. 5: Load up on the larger sizes of Silver Minnows and Sprite—and find the cure for coho fever!

Lake County Hosts Clerks, Recorders

Lake County will host a meeting of the Illinois Association of County Clerks and Recorders from Zone 4 on May 22, the first time the organization has met here.

Zone 4 takes in all the counties in the northern third of the State from Rock Island, County on the Mississippi River to Will County at the Indiana border on the east and everything north to the Wisconsin line.

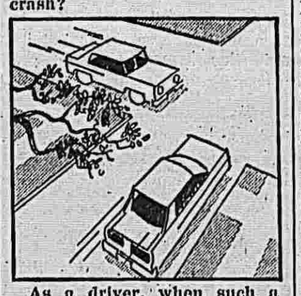

Frank J. Nustra, Lake County Recorder of Deeds, is president of the association and along with County Clerk Truman Gerretsen will co-host the meeting. At least fifty representatives from the 23 counties are expected to attend.

Following an orientation and tour of the county courthouse complex, the group will hold a luncheon meeting at the Swedish Glee Club in Waukegan.

DRIVING FOR TRAFFIC SAFETY

by Paul Powell
Secretary of State

Have you ever approached an unmarked intersection and seen another car approaching on the cross street from your left? According to the Uniform Act Regulating Traffic you have the right-of-way, but is the driver of the other car going to stop? If the driver of the other car fails to yield the right-of-way to you, can you stop in time to avoid a crash?

As a driver, when such a situation arises, do you know the rules? They have been made to avoid tragedy in just such an instance, but many drivers aren't courteous enough to be bothered with learning the rules. And the fellow approaching from the left may be one of those who doesn't care. For your own safety, you must be able to stop soon enough, just in case he doesn't. This is where defensive driving will take over. When you know and drive by the rules your chances of surviving on our over-populated roads increases greatly.

For your copy of "Rules of the Road", write to Paul Powell, Secretary of State, Springfield, Illinois 62706.

More than seven-tenths of the earth's surface is covered with water, and practically all of this vast area is inhabited by fishes.

Boating Tips...

SKIN DIVER'S FLAG

A red flag with a white diagonal stripe floating on the water indicates that a skin diver is somewhere below the surface, say the Mercury boating authorities. It warns boaters to stay at least 100 feet away. Divers display a flag whenever there is boat traffic and often tow it with them as they change underwater locations.
